Imagine

Imagine is the title of the song composed and performed by John Lennon forty years ago. It is considered to be the third greatest song of all time. The lyrics speak so well of what many of us dream of: "all the people living life in peace." Imagine shot to the top of the music chart following the 9/11 terrorist attack. Angered, confused, frightened and shocked by the senseless destruction of innocent lives, many people sought comfort, solace and hope in the poignant melody and words of the lyrics: "You may say I am a dreamer but I'm not the only one. I hope someday you'll join us and the world will be as one."

Ten years after 9/11, that defining moment in the lives of many, are we closer to achieving world peace and global unity? What has become of us? What has changed? For sure, counter-terrorism system and methods have been refined and upgraded. All of these should make us feel more at ease and secure.

Yet we have also compromised some degree of honor and respectability as a people and as a nation. In the name of national security, we have allowed some form of torture as a means to extract information. We have limited the freedom of religion by disallowing the construction of a place of worship for our Muslim brothers and sisters. We have become more suspicious and wary of people who do not share our way of life, don't speak our language and don't practice our religion.

As we pause today to remember and pray for all those who died at the 9/11 disaster, as we express our compassion and support to the families they left behind, as we are more aware that the world we live in is caught up in a spiral of hatred and violence, let us resolve to stand by our Christian principles that every man and woman is an image of God that has to be respected and loved.

In the wider arena of world affairs, our decisions to play fair and honest, to exercise wise judgment and extend kindness and mercy may not make an impact but the same would mean a lot in our communities, in our workplaces and in our churches. Let trust in the basic goodness of the person be the starting point of any conversation.

There is the story of a general whose brigade has been assigned to contain and control acts of insurgency of a Muslim separatist movement. He instructed his soldiers that whenever they meet the local people that they make the effort to smile at them and to point their rifles to the ground.

Small measures such as this can do much to lessen tension, erase suspicion and create trust that eventually would lead to peace and unity. It's definitely, a different world we live now but each of us can still imagine and act that we all live in peace and the world will be as one.

Imagine

Imagine es el título de la canción compuesta e interpretada por John Lennon hace cuarenta años. Es considerada como la mejor canción de la tercera parte de todos los tiempos. La letra habla muy bien de lo que muchos de nosotros soñamos: "toda la gente viviendo en paz."

Imagínate disparo en la parte superior de la carta de la música tras el ataque terrorista del 9/11. Enojado, confundido, asustado y sorprendido por la destrucción sin sentido de vidas inocentes, muchas personas buscaban consuelo, y esperanza en la melodía y las palabras conmovedoras de las letras: "Usted puede decir que soy un soñador pero no soy el único. Espero que algún día te unas a nosotros y el mundo será como uno."

Diez años después de 9/11, que la definición de momento en la vida de muchos, estamos más cerca de lograr la paz mundial y la unidad mundial? ¿Qué ha sido de nosotros? ¿Qué ha cambiado? Por supuesto, la lucha contra el terrorismo del sistema y los métodos se han perfeccionado y mejorado. Nos hemos vuelto más atentos y vigilantes a lo que sucede a nuestro alrededor. Todo esto debe hacer que nos sintamos más a gusto y seguro.

Sin embargo, también hemos comprometido algunas de las cosas que nos hacen diferentes y digna como pueblo y como nación. Nos hemos vuelto más suspicaz y cuidadosos de las personas que no comparten nuestra forma de vida, no hablan nuestro idioma, y no practican nuestra religión. A medida que hacemos una pausa hoy para recordar y orar por todos aquellos que murieron en el desastre del 9/11, como lo expresa nuestra compasión y apoyo a las familias que dejaron atrás, ya que estamos más conscientes del mundo en que vivimos se encuentra atrapado en un espiral de odio y violencia, tomemos la determinación de apoyar a nuestros principios cristianos que cada hombre y mujer es una imagen de Dios que tiene que ser respetado y amado. En el ámbito más amplio de los acontecimientos del mundo, nuestra decisión de ser el juego limpio y honestidad, para emitir un juicio prudente y extender la bondad y la misericordia no puede hacer un impacto, pero lo mismo podría significar mucho en nuestras comunidades, en nuestros lugares de trabajo y en nuestras iglesias. Permitir que el diálogo, no confrontación, sea el medio para resolver conflictos y divisiones. He leído la historia de la general, cuya brigada se le ha asignado para contener y controlar los actos de insurgencia de un movimiento separatista musulmán. Ordenó a sus soldados que cada vez que vean gente local hagan un esfuerzo de sonreírles y apuntar sus rifles en el suelo. Pequeñas medidas como ésta pueden hacer mucho para disminuir la tensión, borrado de la sospecha y la creación de confianza que a la larga conduciría a la paz y la unidad. todos vivimos en paz.
